“Inflated Sense of Self And Uniqueness”

Description: You only see the good things about yourself and not the areas you need to improve. You think you are better than everyone else. You think you will never get caught doing anything wrong because you’re too slick.

- Focus only on your positives
- Views self as different and better than everyone else
- Fails to acknowledge destructive behavior
- Expects others to excuse harm because of good deeds
- Does not excuse harm done to him/her
- Has unrealistic expectations
- Thinking something makes it so
- Super optimistic to hide fear of failure
- Quits at the first sign of failure
- Expects others to accommodate own wishes
